Very bad game with bad acceleration and unexpected high graphic requirements. Also the music was just terrible.. My 5 year old says "I don't like it because the car is controlling itself, but I do like the game. I want thumbs across.". Can I recommend this game? No, not at all. The customization is absolutely minimal, only a few select parts, only a handful of colours, and the same goddamn route all over again, with unreliable traffic that just straight-up stops you dead in your tracks. It'd be better if it actually had something happen with the collision, actually had racing (since racing against the same u2665u2665u2665u2665u2665u2665 time, over and over again, is just very stupid), and actually had more maps and more customization. Rating? 3/10. It's lightly amusing but that's as far as it actually gets.. Not a bad game to kill some time.. Played it for about an hour and then it started spawning two cars piled on top of one another as a glitchy undriveable mess AND the camera stopped tracking with the car. uninstalled and reinstalled. didn't fix it.. The game it self is quite relaxing to play. The music ain't the best to listen to while relaxing and I just started to listen on spotify insted. The game would be lovely if there was larger road or a more open place to drive.. pretty fun game to play for some minutes. It's fun and cheap, and it runs at a good fps..
